

Dear members of St. _____ Parish,

We need you!

Even though we cannot be together now, I am praying with you and for you at daily Mass. I am confident that our Lord will pour the grace of these Masses out abundantly to the people of St. _____ Parish.

Friends, I need your help. During this time of trial and uncertainty, St. _____ Parish is called to be a light and a sanctuary of peace and hope to our community. The Church must do all she can to ensure that no one is left utterly alone.

However, bringing Christ to people takes resources. Because we can no longer gather the offertory at Sunday Mass, we have arranged for an online offertory at parishwebsite.org. Please consider making your regular offertory gift, and, if you are able, stretching yourself to offer a bit more on behalf of those who have lost their livelihood. If you make a gift, please share my request with others, encouraging them to give. I would also appreciate if you would let me know of your gift at _____@mail.com so I can encourage others to give.

For 2,000 years, through pandemics, wars, and other crises, Catholics have generously served the world, on the front lines of caring for those who are sick. I need your help to make sure that St. _____'s can survive and even thrive to bring Christ's love and mercy to hearts that long to know Him.

Let us continue to hold each other in prayer. St. Joseph, protector of the Church (or your own parish or diocesan patron saint), pray for us.

Sincerely in the Lord,

Father _____
