Dear <<Primary_Salutation>>,

Through the Beatitudes, Jesus encourages us to strive for the values of His kingdom and gives us a glimpse of heaven. He invites us to identify with the poor, the hungry, those who weep and are excluded. He asks us to be compassionate when the world might tell us otherwise. He expects us to find and share joy throughout our lives.

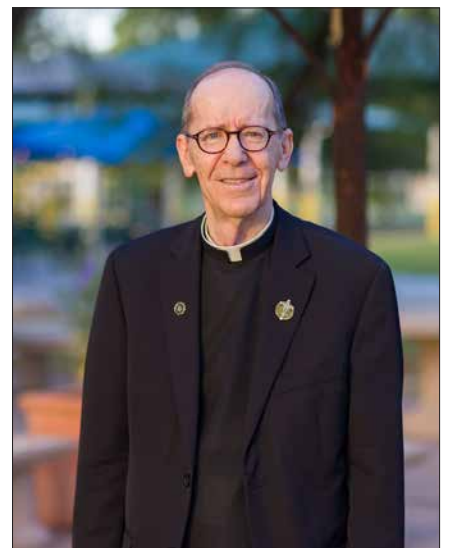

As a child growing up in Kansas, we learned early on to take care of our neighbors. I remember a time after a terrible storm, neighbors gathered together to help one another... sharing equipment and muscle to clean up debris, and bringing the families together to share a meal and supplies. Together we helped those who had less, fed one another, and comforted those who suffered loss. We prayed for God to restore our joy, and we knew that this storm would pass.

With every gift to the Charity and Development Appeal (CDA) we equip an army of people in CDA-supported agencies and ministries. Through them we help preserve the dignity of the poor, feed those who are hungry, comfort and strengthen those who are weeping, and give courage to those who stand up for their faith:

Blessed A R E Y O U

Rejoice and leap for joy on that day!
ehold, your reward will be great in heaven.

- Counselors who assist the homeless and working poor through agencies like Catholic Charities, Paz de Cristo and St. Joseph the Worker, preserving their dignity while helping them find shelter and work
- Outreach coordinators and volunteers who feed the hungry with prepared meals and grocery delivery
- Counselors who help pregnant women choose life, teaching them how to care for themselves, their babies, and build a life with their children at agencies like First Way Pregnancy Center, Life Choices Women’s Clinic, and Aid to Women Center
- Families who desire faith-based education so their children can fully learn and embrace Catholic values every day
- Priests, deacons and lay leaders who bring the Good News and the sacraments to their parishes, and give us courage to stand up for our faith in Christ
- Together, we share our compassion and joy, bringing others to the love and hope of Jesus.

With your gift of <2021 gift> to last year’s CDA, you were among our most generous donors. Thank you, I am deeply grateful for your support. Will you join me again this year by making a monthly or one-time gift?

With your prayers and generosity, we are realizing the Kingdom of God. Thank you, and may the Lord bless you!

Sincerely yours in Christ,

+Thomas J. Olmsted
